

INTERN RECRUITMENT FOR THE SUMMER SEMESTER 2024 CHILD AND SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

Selected interns will be able to gain research experience related to educational psychology and child development. Some of our lab projects are listed on <http://www.psychology.hku.hk/kshumlab/index.php/our-projects/>.

Intern duties:

Interns will help with data collection in HKU as well as in primary and/or secondary schools. They may also be engaged in other tasks such as preparation of materials and data entry. Interns are expected to spend 10-12 hours per week (at least one and a half day per week) on our projects. These hours can be scheduled on weekdays or weekends.

Intern selection:

- Strong commitment and high motivation
- Fluent in written and spoken Chinese (Cantonese) and English
- Mature, meticulous and responsible
- Good interpersonal skills
- Preferably with teaching-related experience
- Preferably with good computer skills

How to apply:

Interested students should send an updated CV, transcript, and personal statement to Dr. Kathy Shum (psycadhd@hku.hk).

Project details can be found on our lab website:
