Abstract

With the support of the Thanksgiving Scholarship donated by Dr. S.Y. Tang, two educational psychology students Sapphire and Kitty participated in an overseas attachment programme to learn about the latest development of school psychology in the United States. Thanks for the arrangement from Prof. Jack Cummings, they were able to visit local schools, meet with school psychologists and attend some of the trainings for school psychology students at Indiana University, Bloomington (IU). A sharing session will be held to share their learning experience and the insights gained from their two-week attachment at IU.
